Surprise Negro In Burglary Act

This morning about 12:30 o'clock a Negro man was observed trying to break and enter the Baltimore cafe on Craghead street at the corner of Patton street. A colored man sleeping on a floor above and in the adjoining building heard the noise and, observing the obvious intent to burglarize the place, he scared the intruder away and notified Night Watchman J. R. Hutson, who in turn informed Patrolman John Clark on that beat. The two went to the scene to investigate and saw that some one had tried to effect an entrance by pushing in a swinging transom in the rear of the cafe, which would have permitted him to enter.

As the officers were about to leave the place they encountered a Negro man returning from Craghead up Patton street to the rear of the cafe, presumably to resume his efforts to get in. An examination of the suspect was convincing that he had had his shoes off and had been walking barefoot in the mud and had later put on his shoes again, with the mud still adhering to the soles of his feet. Thereupon the Negro was taken into custody by Mr. Clark and Nelson Dixon, jailer, who had joined him. As they were walking up Patton street and just as they reached the junction with Linn street, the prisoner suddenly made a dash down that street, calling, "Goodby, boys," as he sped away. The dash was so daring and so unexpected that in a twinkling the fugitive had a good lead, but Officer Clark fired at him as he ran and pursued the flying burglar down to Newton street and thence to the line of the old Atlantic and Danville railroad, where the quarry eluded the pursuers. Officer Clark was the burglar's shoes, which he can secure by applying for them.

While the name of the Negro was not learned, he will be readily recognized by those who saw him. It is said he was formerly employed at the cafe, but was discharged last Monday.

TRACTION CO. PREPARING FOR ONE-MAN OPERATION

The Danville Traction and Power company is now trying out the pre-man car service to the extent of having passengers enter at the front of the cars but for the week it will still operate with two men on each car. It is understood that the car crews on each of the cars will be reduced to one man beginning next Sunday. Under the new plan, passengers enter the cars at the right in front and leave the cars by the front also, emerging by the exit bus in rear of the entrance door. Passengers are rapidly getting accustomed to the innovation.

When the one-man plan has been begun regularly, it will mean inevitably dispensing with less than 50 percent of the total number of motormen and conductors formerly employed. Up to this time the employees have not been notified whom the company will retain and who will lose out, but it is assumed that the men who have been longest in the service will be given preference in the selection of those to be retained. Restoration of both the depot car service and the loop around Cabell street will create a demand for sufficient men to operate cars on these as well as on the main-line.

VIRGINIA WELL YIELDS FLUID BELIEVED OIL

LURAY, Va., July 1.—The discovery of what is said to be oil in the southwest of here, is causing considerable excitement in that section. An old well that has been used for years in yielding the product, according to the statement of the owner, Benjamin F. Smelter. The well was dug three years ago and after going through seven feet of a putty-like clay the remainder of the 37 feet was through a solid limestone formation. Work was suspended on the well while its bottom was still to solid limestone.

So strong was the water of limestone that it has never been used for domestic purposes. The color of the oil discovered is almost like water. Residents from the oil fields of Oklahoma, who are present visiting in this county, say that the crude oil in that state is almost black when taken from the ground.

It is known, however, in many of the oil-producing sections of West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Texas, a great deal of the oil when taken out of the ground is as clear as water.

NEW PHILIPPINE HIGHWAY STARTS NATIVE EMIGRATION

BREMERHAVEN, July 1.—The prairie schooner in the United States have been called by the constant stream of Filipino emigrants now moving across the newly constructed highway from the west coast provinces of Luzon into the fertile Cagayan Valley, on the Pacific coast side, noted for its production of tobacco.

Until recently the Cagayan Valley was virtually inaccessible, except by a circuitous water route and a narrow trail over which pack horses traveled with great difficulty. The completion of a good wagon highway across the mountain range has started the emigrants, especially from the provinces which are thickly populated, to seek the more fertile lands in the Cagayan. Dozens of "prairie schooners" drawn by caribao or Indian cattle can be seen daily journeying across the divide, each wagon being accompanied by from five to ten people.

DEATH OF PAUL WHITE

Paul White, aged 28, died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock after a protracted illness, at his home near Stokesland.

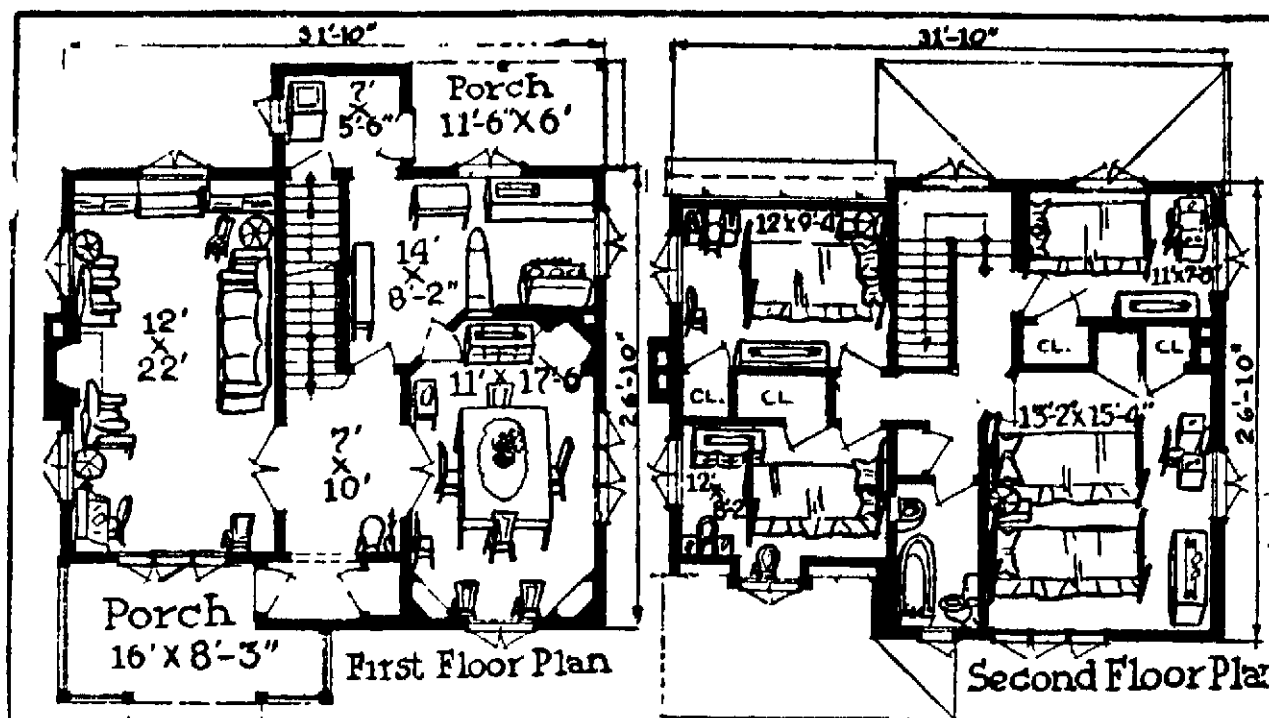

Deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. White, seven brothers and one sister. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be at Stokesland cemetery.

RELICS OF CANNIBALISM

TOULOUSE, France, July 1.—Human bones found in a cave near here and taken to the geographical laboratory of the University, faculty of sciences have been identified as belonging to the neolithic age, dating more than six thousand years ago.

The bones were broken and bear unmistakable marks of human teeth showing that cannibalism existed in the earliest times.

INTERIOR CARRIES OUT ENGLISH STYLE

A noted French authority has called this house a little gem of architecture.

It is a seven-room modern home, based on the English cottage style. Its gabled roof with clean-cut cornice and its outward-opening casements are typical. The enticing porch is made a real part of the house by clever handling of its roof the absence of huge pillars is especially commendable.

The interior carries out the English motif in the design and finish of woodwork and walls. The living room 12 by 22 feet, with casements on three exposures, is paneled with Elizabethan rectangles of oak which are repeated in the eight-paneled doors.

An open fireplace of brick with a plain mantel shelf is centered on the long outside wall and flanked by windows. A built-in seat (whose hinged lid discloses a handy storage space) fills a narrow end of the room, between two built-in bookcases. Nor does the room lack large wall space, so essential to a satisfactory furnishing of a livable room.

This house is well adapted for entertaining, since the living room and the exceptionally large dining room may be made one with the hall by opening connecting French doors. The dining room is one of the most attractive rooms in the house. A pair of stained oak corner cupboards and a corner fireplace contribute to its interest.

The boxed stair from the hall is economical of space and cost. Housewives will appreciate the convenience of having the kitchen open directly into the front hall, so that they do not have to pass through any other room. The kitchen is well lighted and efficiently equipped with built-in conveniences. It is supplemented by a rear entry for the refrigerator and a rear porch.

The four bedrooms upstairs are not wastefully large, but are ample and airy. There are six closets, including one that consists of built-in trays. These rooms are finished with southern pine and painted.

A hot-air heating system is indicated in the plans, and a finished basement.

This house can be built in the average American city for about $9,500 or $10,000, figuring on the basis of its area in cubic feet at 30 cents a cubic foot.

COINAGE MELTED FOR COPPER

NEW YORK, July 1.—After circulating many of them for more than a century, in the Dutch East Indies, 238 tons of copper coins were unloaded here recently on their way to a smelting plant in New Jersey. Many bore the date of 1790, others were worn so smooth that their age could not be determined.

These symbols of the trade of a corner of the world that readers of English associates chiefly with the novels of Joseph Conrad soon will be transmuted into copper, practically pure copper, however, worth about $250 a ton.

The coins were collected by the Dutch government in ten years ago when the old issues were recalled and replaced with new.

A New Concern

The Sandy Creek Brick and Sand Works, have completed their plant and is now doing business. The first kiln of brick have been burned, the product being the ordinary red clay variety. The concern also sells and delivers sand. The plant is operated by C. H. Fox and E. T. Elliott of this city.

REIDSVILLE, July 1.—Kendall Brame, aged 18 son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brame, living in Rockingham county three miles from here, was drowned yesterday afternoon while swimming in Schumpert's mill pond in Stokes county, about 10 miles from Madison.

Chamber Commerce Starts a Bureau

(Contributed)

Within the past month we have received a great many requests for information from out-of-town individuals and firms. Many such requests come from legitimate business sources while others are manifestly from those who would make improper use of the information to compile what are commonly termed as "suckers' lists" for sale to promoters. Lists of merchants, particularly specialty dealers, and lists of business men of all kinds from hotel managers to Yellow Taxi operators, are asked for.

A frequent request is for a list of members and telephone directories. Information of this kind is usually denied for obvious reasons. Of course, the Chamber of Commerce would respond willingly with any information for the United States Chamber of Commerce or the Treasury Department.

To reduce labor and expense, and prevent information from falling into improper hands, and at the same time give the maximum of service to our members, we have adopted the policy of refusing any data unless the inquiry comes through the local organization here in town. In some cases it is satisfactory to transmit the information desired to the Chamber of Commerce of the town making the request, to be given out at the discretion of the secretary.

While it consumes much time and expense, this is a recognized service to our members. With this end in mind, we have tried wherever possible to secure from Chambers of Commerce in the surrounding county the co-operation of their secretaries. If you desire to secure some information from another town or city your Chamber of Commerce stands ready and willing to have you make use of their Service Department as others have done.

JUDGE R. S. KER RECOVERS FROM SUDDEN ILLNESS

Judge Richard S. Ker, of Staunton, Va., well and widely known in Danville through having presided over the Corporation court here on several occasions has sufficiently recovered from a sudden illness which incapacitated him for service in Richmond, Va., as substitute for Judge B. T. Crump in the Law and Equity court while the latter jurist was engaged in assigned service on the special Court of Appeals Judge Ker has gone to his home in Staunton, but has not yet sufficiently recovered his health to warrant his resumption of the Richmond assignment.

POLICE ARE ROUNDING UP UNLICENSED DOGS

Jailer Nelson Dixon has had devolved upon him the additional work of master of the pound, now that the police have begun their annual drive on unlicensed canines. Many dogs found at large without the tag indicative of the payment of the dog license are being brought in. If any one misuses a canine pet it might be well to see and make inquiry of Mr. Dixon, at the city jail.

SHIP CUTS WHALE IN TWO

SAN PEDRO, Cal., July 1.—An enormous sperm whale, part of a large school playing about the ship, was struck by the Panama-Pacific liner Finland and cut in half while the liner was off the Mexican coast recently. It was reported on the arrival of the Finland here.

A large portion of the dead mammal became fast to the bow of the steamer in the collision and remained there two days before it could be removed. Captain Munroe said the Finland was delayed several hours by the collision.

CATHOLICS OF CITY TO STAGE OLD TIME 4TH

Celebration Will Be Held Friday Afternoon and Night Near City.

What promises to be an appropriate and interesting, and something like an old-time Fourth of July celebration, combined with a modern party with weather permitting, will be staged by the members of the Sacred Heart Catholic church of Danville, on Friday. This event will take place in the late afternoon and in the evening upon the spacious lawn before the new home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Callender, which is situated about five miles from Danville along the newly hard-surfaced Martinsville road.

This large lawn has been much improved lately, and will, for the occasion, be ornamented with newly built and tastefully decorated booths at which refreshments will be served and amusement provided for the children. These booths and the lawn, too, will be illumined by Japanese lanterns, and by electric lamps supplied with current from storage batteries.

A series of special events will mark this Fourth of July celebration, which will be open to the public in general. One of these will be for the children, and will begin at six o'clock in the evening. The other will be for adults and will start at 8:30. The children's celebration, which will commence with a short prayer, will be followed by a competitive quiz in United States history, and the history of Virginia—particularly the revolutionary period.

Three handsome prizes will be given to the three children regardless of creed, denomination or school or grade, who give the largest number of correct answers to questions upon these most valuable of subjects.

The awarding of prizes will be followed at about 5:45 by a display of American and Japanese day-light fireworks, paper airship and balloon ascensions, parachute drops from paper balloons, made by manikins controlled by time-fuses.

A particular feature in connection with the day-light fireworks which will probably appeal to all really live and red-blooded children, and especially to all real and patriotic American boys, will be a flight of 21 miniature aerial, loudnoised paper bomb-throwing, on massed, small mortars and exploding in the air as a national salute to the first of a series of American flags as it emerges with a bang from a specially prepared paper shell, and gracefully unfolds, and gloriously floats high in the air, after being fired from one of a number of larger mortars located on a distant part of the ground.

The program for adults will start at 8:30 p. m., like that of the children. It will be opened with a hymn that will come the hymn "Domine Salvum Fac Rempublicam" ("O God, Save The Republic") which is sung every Sunday and on several other days during the year after benediction in the Sacred Heart Catholic church.

The Rev. Father A. J. Halbleib, pastor of the congregation, will then make a short and appropriate address. This will be followed by a recitation of the inspiring and soul-moving speech of Patrick Henry which proved to be the much needed match to kindle the flame of the American Revolution, and which concluded with those immortal words: "Give me liberty, or give me death!" After this will come the reading of a copy of the "Declaration of Independence," an old-time Fourth of July custom.

As a fitting conclusion of the day's celebration there will be a brilliant display of night fireworks, which will compare favorably with many seen in this section. A part of the fireworks to be used in this display come from the factory of the International Fireworks Co., of Jersey City, N. J., the same concern which has often furnished the displays at fairs in this vicinity, and a part have been made or made up here by the Rev. Father Halbleib who for many years has been deeply interested in chemistry, and especially in that branch of it connected with the pyrotechnic art.

One of the chief features of mere amusement for the priest on that evening will be, as he says, to have persons interested in such things to guess or give their opinion on which of the fireworks used are from the factory, or which were made up by him with the assistance of Master Dalton Ramsey, one of his young Sunday-school teachers.

A rather unusual feature of this Fourth of July celebration by the pastor and members of the Sacred Heart Church will be the distribution of a souvenir pamphlet entitled: "What Means the Fourth of July to You?" which, among other things, contains a copy of the Declaration of Independence.

STANDARD SIX BUICK ARRIVES.

L. R. Wyatt is expected to arrive today with a new model Buick which is claiming the attention of automobile circles. The new Buick is a six-cylinder car on an entirely new chassis and featuring eight new body models, capable of a speed of 75 miles per hour.

The new six is designated the "Standard Six" and has a wheel base of 114 3/8 inches, a valve-in-head engine similar to the engine now in use in the other models, four-wheel brakes, and low-pressure tires. The chassis shows advanced ideas in numerous new details of simplicity and accessibility. Among the body models will be a five-passenger touring, two-passenger roadster, five-passenger double-service sedan, two-passenger double-service coupe, five-passenger sedan, and a four-passenger coupe.

As standard equipment on all models are carried dim and full headlights with anti-glare lenses, parking lights on tall lamp and instrument board lamp, motor drive, 75-mile speedometer, gasoline gauge, tire carrier with extra demountable rim, jack, new type high pressure grease gun, full kit of tools, pump, tire repair kit, transmission lock, coil or windshield wiper, radiator rear vision mirror, running board, seat plate, new sunshade and dome light on all closed models, windshield wiper, automatic windshield wiper on all closed models.

WESTBOUND PROGRESS

IOWA CITY, Ia., July 1.—West-bound Mail Flies R. G. Page and D. C. Smith, arrived here before 8:30 p. m. Central standard time, and departed for Omaha, the next stop, at 9:20 p. m., after an uneventful trip from Chicago. The pilots said they passed some squalls while crossing the Mississippi, but that they caused them no trouble.

McAdoo Gets Two of Gov. Smith's Votes On 37th

roll call, the delegates were still divided among 13 candidates, a record for this stage of a national convention race.

McAdoo and Smith were, as before, in the lead with John W. Davis, well up in third place, out of the dark horse division, and Senator Ralston, of Indiana although sixth in the voting on the 30th ballot, and kept on working into the early hours of the day.

What happened at their little conferences remained to be seen in today's events.

Of the leaders, McAdoo was the only one to show a declining tendency through the 15 ballots yesterday, while Davis displayed the greatest accent of strength. The McAdoo workers, however, predicted, victory today and David L. Rockwell, manager of the California campaign, insisted "our lines are holding and we have assurances from our delegations that they will stick to the finish."

McAdoo who received 431 votes on the first ballot and on the 15th, dropped below his starting point last night on the 26th when his count declined to 415 1-2 and ended the night with the same total.

Smith, meanwhile, maintained his advance, netting 18 votes on the day which was 83 more than he had in the beginning and George E. Brennan, of Illinois, one of the leading supporters while making a round of calls after midnight, predicted he would reach 109 during the early balloting today.

The Davis gain represented another 100 per cent. climb. Starting with 63 on the 16th ballot he ended with 125 1-2 as compared with the preceding day's progress from 31 to 61.

The Ralston's talk gained much momentum when the Davis drift set William Jennings Bryan to working in active opposition to the west Virginian, who wound up with 33 votes again of two for the day and three altogether were confident that Bryan's second choice inclination lay in their direction, despite his announced adherence to McAdoo camp.

Only three favorite sons were shaken completely out of the balloting yesterday and one Senator Owen of Oklahoma was added to the list. Gov. Brown of New Hampshire, and Senator Harrison of Mississippi, were dropped by the respective delegations on the 16th ballot, and the Bryan let go the Nebraska vote on the 21st.

All of the Kansas votes meanwhile, turned to McAdoo, but Gov. Jonathan Davis, of that state continued to receive several undecided votes from Illinois and Pennsylvania delegates.

In the surviving favorite son group, John W. Davis having emerged into leader classification—Senator Underwood was the only one receiving widely scattered support of the end of 30 ballots. Starting with 42 1-2 votes on the 16th ballot he ended with 39 1-2 the same number he received on the 15th and three less than he got on the first.

As the convening forces wheeled into position to renew the struggle at today's session of the Democratic national convention there were strong indications that Smith and McAdoo people were preparing for the utmost exertions. Overnight McAdoo scouts had been making heroic efforts to bring back Mississippi and Missouri, planning on the psychological effect of the day's session and capitalize its value at the development of the night indicate. The object of the McAdoo people was to make a supreme effort to get back from the slump, which struck their fortunes yesterday and carried them to a low ebb.

The John D. Davis people were planning to acquire all they could, while this was going on and the other dark horse camps seemed to be disposed to let Smith and McAdoo "breeze it out between them" as one leader put it. It is evident that neither could get the desired two-thirds.

The dark horse strategy was to sit back and let the two leaders convince the convention that they had no hope of breaking the deadlock.

Reports of an impending break from McAdoo in the Texas delegation were denied even by the little handful, which could come in. The forty from the lone star state, one delegate, who was praying for a break, said, were sure to stand for McAdoo until he gave the word releasing them.

Thomas Taggart, Senator Ralston's booster, said he expected to see McAdoo and Smith make gains all thru the day session with transfers of votes back and forth but he expected no result from it.

"There will be upcutting and sparring but no decision" said the Indiana leader.

Just as the clock moved up to 11 Chairman Walsh began gaveling for order. It was quickly secured and prayer was offered by Rabbi Newman, of Temple Israel, New York.

Rabbi Newman prayed earnestly and at length. When he concluded, a McAdoo delegate in the Missouri space shouted "great prayer."

With that, the clerk plunged into the ever present job of calling the roll of states. The day's business was opened as usual with 24 votes for Oscar Underwood from Alabama. It recalled, among the old timers, the famous roll call for Underwood on the forty-six ballots at Baltimore, given on the rising infection by former Gov. Brewer.

The first change came in Colorado, where McAdoo lost one to John W. Davis.

Once more Illinois was not ready to come to a decision and scattered her vote among the field.

The McAdoo strength held good in Iowa and the 25 went to McAdoo as did the 20 from Kansas and Kentucky. The 20 for John W. Davis in Louisiana held good overnight. Massachusetts made no change and Maryland's 15 were still holding good for Ritchie.

Michigan was not ready to change her vote. Neither was Minnesota. Mississippi's 20 for John W. Davis held good. The same was true in Missouri, the Davis line held.

North Carolina took back the single vote it had been giving to Smith and added it to McAdoo.

Pennsylvania again scattered her one 16. South Dakota transferred its one loose vote from Ritchie to Walsh, of Missouri, and gave the remaining 9 as usual to McAdoo.

Virginia's 24 still stood on today's first ballot with Senator Glass. Davis held tight to his 14 from his home state—West Virginia—and the remainder of the roll went through about the same.

The total number of votes cast on the first ballot today was the full strength of the full convention, 1,098.

That effectively disposed of stories that delegates and alternates were going away. Delegates might have gone in small numbers but the first vote showed that every delegate who had departed had left an alternate.

While the balloting was in progress, personal letters signed by Mr. McAdoo were delivered to McAdoo delegates on the floor. They expressed his appreciation of their support, declared an intense drive must be expected to disintegrate the McAdoo forces and expressed confidence that the McAdoo delegates would stand firm against any attempted combination by "the bosses". On the thirty-fourth ballot in Colorado, McAdoo lost one; Smith gained a half vote. While the balloting was going on there were three deaths in the Mississippi delegation. The Davis people were holding it for the West Virginian by a seventh of a vote and the McAdoo people were making heroic efforts to win over. They did not discount the moral effect of having Mississippi's 20 votes flopping back in the McAdoo column and they hoped it would pave the way for Missouri to do the same thing later. In Illinois there were some changes. Davis of West Virginia, gaining 6, Coz lost 3, Davis of Kansas, lost 2.

It went along without much change until Massachusetts, when the half vote which had been given Gaston, went back to Smith.

There was little change otherwise until Mississippi as predicted, flopped back into the McAdoo column with her 20. The combined efforts of Wm. Jennings Bryan, Senator Ralston, and the McAdoo floor managers, had succeeded in winning over the one-seventh of a vote.

It is the first tangible encouragement for the McAdoo people today. With a fresh ballot called, the convention went into the 32nd ballot. The McAdoo enthusiasts were not overlooking any show of vigor. They announced their votes with roars and shouts and in college yell fashion.

Massachusetts divided here, McAdoo 24; Smith 33 1/2 as usual.

Mississippi again held fast for Davis as did Missouri. In North Carolina McAdoo lost half a vote which went to Davis.

Ohio was not to be moved away from Gov. Cox, and Oklahoma was sticking to Senator Owen this morning.

In Pennsylvania there was some switching but it did not affect the leaders.

Mr. McAdoo again set up headquarters across the street from the garden when the convention convened. He occupied a room reserved in the name of one of his advisers.

McAdoo planned to remain at the hotel throughout the sessions and receive leaders. Shortly after he arrived at the hotel McAdoo aides, bearing messages from their chief, began to circulate around the convention floor. Mr. McAdoo also held an extended conference with W. J. Bryan.

No choice on the 32nd ballot, the clerk went at the 33rd. Slowly the ballots were climbing upward toward the Baltimore and San Francisco records. While the call was going on Wm. J. Bryan had a whispered conference on the platform with Chairman Walsh. Mrs. McAdoo was back in her box again today busy with paper and pencil, counting the ballots.

In Massachusetts on the 33rd ballot Wm. A. Gaston, of Massachusetts, got a half vote from the Smith collection. McAdoo's was unchanged.

Michigan went back to Senator Ferris, her favorite son, taking all the 30 votes which had been scattered. McAdoo, 11; Smith, 11; Davis of W. Va., 7, and Ralston, 1.

The delegation took them all back to hold them a while and decide later where they would go.

Means, Jarnecke Are Found Guilty

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 1.—Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent and his secretary, Elmer W. Jarnecke, tonight were convicted of having conspired with bootleggers illegally to withdraw whiskey from distilleries. The jury was out one hour.

Counsel for Means and Jarnecke were given until noon tomorrow by Federal Judge C. E. Wolverton, of Oregon, to file any contemplated motions. No date was set for sentence.

The prisoners were given immediately into the custody of the United States marshal and taken to the toms.

Whiskey Indictments

The indictments, returned against them in 1923, charged Means and Jarnecke with having entered into a conspiracy to remove fifty barrels of rye whiskey from the Sam Thompson Distillery in Brownsville, Pa., to a warehouse in Pittsburgh. Government witnesses testified that Jarnecke had been given $15,097.60 with which to pay the tax and remove the whiskey and that Means received $5,297.50 of this money.

The whiskey, according to witnesses, belonged to John W. Hubbard, of Trenton, N. J., a steel magnate, and friend of Secretary Mellon. He admitted during the trial that he had desired to obtain the release of the liquor for beverage purposes and that he had given Charles W. Johnson, former United States brewer, the money with which to obtain the release. Johnson told the jury that Means had promised to help him, claiming influence which Jess Smith, friend of former Attorney General Daugherty and of the late President Harding.

Means admitted having entered into negotiations for the removal of the whiskey, but contended that he had done so in his capacity as an investigator to obtain evidence against big bootleggers and influential men suspected of violating the prohibition law.

He swore that a letter signed by President Harding, authorizing him to make an investigation, had been stolen from him on March 31 by department of justice agents while he was assisting the Brookhart committee in investigating the department of justice.

OFFICERS ELECTED IN PRINTERS' UNION

(By The Associated Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, July 1.—Virtually the entire list of administration candidates were elected over their progressive opponents to the more important offices of the international typographical union, according to the official tabulation of votes cast in the recent election, given out here tonight by the union's canvassing board.

James Lynch, of Syracuse, N. Y., heading the administration ticket, was elected over Charles F. P. of Detroit, incumbent by a plurality of nearly 3,000 votes. Other administration candidates for major offices elected are:

Seth Brown, Los Angeles, first vice president; Austin Hansen, New York, second vice president; W. Hays, Minneapolis, secretary-treasurer; George W. Barker, a progressive candidate, was elected delegate to the trades and labor congress of Canada and Fred S. Baker, the administration force, was named a member of the board of auditors.

FIX DATES NOTIFICATION OF NOMINATIONS

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Dates for formal notification for President Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate of their nomination by the Cleveland convention were fixed today for July 24 and 31, respectively.

If the earth had no atmosphere we would be subjected to a constant bombardment of shooting stars.

RAILROAD WITH UNNATURAL GAIN SEEKS PERMIT

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—In altitude and earnings the Death Valley Railroad is the lowest in the United States, according to a report filed here with the State Railroad Commission, seeking permission to abandon the line because, the company declares, "it isn't worth the distinction of being designated a common carrier."

In the request for permission to abandon the line as a common carrier it was noted that the earnings jumped from $1.32 in 1922 to $23.78 in 1923. Company officials explained that the increase was "unnatural" and was on account of motion picture companies using the desert as locations

GERMAN TRADE UNIONS THANK BRITISH COLLEAGUES FOR HELP

LONDON, July 1.—The British Trades Union congress has earned the gratitude of the German General Federation of Trades Unions for their moral and other help in strengthening the German workers against their employers.

A letter from Herr Lelpart, secretary of the German federation, to their English fellow-workers conveys "the hearty thanks of German Trade unionism to the English Trade unions for their willing and self-sacrificing help, without which we certainly should not have been able, as we now are, energetically to oppose the employers in their attempts to lower the conditions of labor."

Everywhere in Germany, Herr Lelpart continued, the struggle for increased wages has been initiated despite the attack on the eight-hour day by the employers. The majority of German workers still have an eight-hour day, and he is confident they will be able to re-establish it where it has been lost if an understanding with France on the basis of the experts' report is reached.

The value of baking powder is based on its leavening strength. You can't judge it by the size of the can — or by the amount you get for your money. You must estimate it by the amount of baking powder used in each baking and the results you get.

CALUMET

is the greatest value ever offered in Baking Powder — it has greater raising "force"—it goes farther than many of the other brands. You use only a rounded or heaping teaspoonful where many others call for two teaspoonfuls or more.

But Baking Powder is not all you save when using Calumet. You save baking materials. Calumet never fails. The last level teaspoonful is as powerful as the first. Calumet is perfectly manufactured—keeps perfectly—and is moderate in price.

You save when you buy it
You save when you use it

One trial will satisfy you of these facts—and demonstrate beyond doubt that "Calumet spells economy."

Your grocer sells it on a guarantee of money back if you are not pleased with results.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

By HARRY B. HUNT

NEW YORK, July 2.—The business visitor to the Democratic National Convention proved to be that persistent and garrulous busy-body—Dame Rumor.

The result was that the convention eclipsed all previous gatherings in the volume and scope of its gossip. Naturally enough, this being a Smith stronghold, and Smith partisans abounding on every hand, the large proportion of this gossip was of a sort calculated to build up psycho-

It constantly pictured him as growing stronger and stronger; as winning other delegates right and left, who would swing to him after the second or third ballot, as growing steadily in recognition as the one man who could sweep north, east, west and south, winning over wet and dry, Klan and anti-Klan by the persuasive powers of his pep and personality.

The chief channel through which this South sentiment was sought to be imposed upon the delegates was through the New York newspapers.

This was particularly true with respect to the Times and World recognized Democratic organs, which visiting delegates chiefly depended for their information as to how sentiment was shaping.

The Smith slant was so persistently present in the columns of these papers that one gathered the result was a foregone conclusion, that although a perfunctory ballot would be needed to discharge instructions and favorite son obligations, as soon as this was done the landslide to Smith would be fast and irresistible.

WOMEN DIRECT BROADCASTS

CHICAGO, July 2.—Three women had the distinction of being the only broadcast directors of their sex in the United States.

They are: Eleanor Poechler, who manages station WLAG, at Minneapolis; Miss Judith Waller of station WMAQ, Chicago; Miss V. A. L. Jones, station KSD, St. Louis.

There are many women broadcast announcers, but out of the some 520 stations throughout the country, only three women are known to be run entirely by women.

Widely known All three, for this reason, have gained wide popularity in the radio world. Mrs. Poechler, for instance, is called upon to write special radio articles for newspapers and magazines and to deliver lectures to clubs and classes.

As head of WLAG, she has complete charge of the programs and business arrangements, and she frequently announces her evening con-

"conventional psychology," the thing that was if the mind of the anti-McAdoo forces last winter when they fought to bring the convention to New York City. For this is the stronghold of anti-McAdooism. The interests and influences most hostile to the former secretary of treasury and director general of railroads, fighting on their own ground, it was felt, could maneuver most effectively to block the progress of the California candidate.

The grooming of Smith, a New Yorker, as the man through whom this psychological pressure could best be applied, was the next step. After Smith had been used to block McAdoo, if he couldn't be put over, the choice would go to the dark horse field, with John D. Davis, Ralston and Glass the New York preferences.

The big thing in the psychological squeeze-play was, "Beat McAdoo," and recognizing the utility of a female in spreading scandal and innuendo, Dame Rumor was given a leading role.

Even Richmond Pearson Hobson, who bottled up Cervera's fleet in Santiago harbor during the Spanish-American war by sinking the collier Merrimac across the channel, was unable to dam the flow of Smith propaganda, even with his anti-dope plank.

Hobson, after leaving the navy, became one of the leaders in the prohibition cause and played an active part in putting across the eighteenth amendment. Indeed he clung to have introduced in the House, while he was a member from Alabama, the first proposal for a constitutional amendment against alcoholic liquors.

Now that prohibition has been made law, Hobson has turned his guns on narcotic drugs—"dope." He brought to the convention a platform plank dealing with that issue.

Being dry and pro-McAdoo, Hobson didn't take kindly to invitations to hop aboard the Smith bandwagon. That, too, he felt, was loaded with "dope." Not the narcotic sort, perhaps, not cocaine, morphine or heroin, but a political dope not less dangerous to Democratic well-being, and bound to put the party to sleep next November.

To which the Smith boosters replied that Hobson was "full of hop" himself!

SIDELIGHTS ON CONVENTION

BY ROBERT T. SMALL

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)

NEW YORK, July 2.—Ever since they came to New York some of the delegates to the Democratic national convention have been wondering that a "service man" should be put on the national ticket as an offset to "Hill and Maria." Dawes of Republicans. Today these same delegates thought they had solved the problem. The idea is to draft no one but a person like General John J. Pershing, for vice president. They are endeavoring to bring other delegates to the same view and say they are meeting with gratifying success.

General Pershing was General Dawes' commanding officer in France and he was seriously considered four years ago for definite political honors.

To the objection that General Pershing is not a Democrat, his proponents at the convention here say that neither is he a Republican. He has never voted either ticket. He has been in the army all of his life. He has never mixed in politics—not national politics anyhow.

The Pershing boomers believe the Democrats would make a ten-strike by placing him on the ticket. They say he was appointed commander-in-chief of the American forces in the World War by a Democratic president and that his great military honors came to him under a Democratic administration. At the mere fact that until the death of his wife many years ago, General Pershing was the son-in-law of Senator Warren, of Wyoming, a died in the wool Republican, should not classify him as an adherent of the grand old party.

So far as can be learned no one at the convention has consulted the general about his incipient boom. As before stated, their idea is to "draft" him and inasmuch as the A. E. F. commander believes in the "draft" the delegates argue that he could not consistently decline the nomination if it were tendered to him.

There have been fewer "soldier candidates" for office after the world war than in other war periods of American history. The Pershing boomers say that after the revolutionary war General Washington was called to office. After the Mexican war, General Andrew Jackson was called to office. After the Civil war, it was Grant. After the Spanish-American war, Roosevelt was called to the vice presidency, later succeeding to the presidency. The Republicans have chosen a service man for second place, so the Democratic boomers are likely to get Black Jack Pershing if he does not watch out.

Now that night sessions have become the regular order of the convention the delegates and their wives have solved the problem of what to do with their metropolitan evenings. As a matter of fact there has been much difficulty on that score from the very beginning. During the first week of the convention, the local committee on entertainment had provided dinners and receptions and dances for most every night and evidently protested against the holding of night sessions during that time. The theaters have not had much of an appeal to the delegates. This was partly due to what the visitors regarded as "outrageous" prices at the box offices. There was no increase in the prices anywhere. The managers had all agreed to that. But when it was announced as a great "concession" to the Democratic hosts that they could go to the "follies" for a $5.50 a seat, the delegates were "topped" to use the "follies" was a "top" to the delegates. Rather than go to the theater the delegates have preferred to stand around the hotel lobbies and gossip about what was likely to happen. They always do that at convention. Old convention towns like Chicago never make any special provisions for the delegates. They know they will go their own way. There has been much "rooming" here for the delegates. "Rooming" here for the delegates has succeeded by never-ceasing raids in drying up what may be called the convention zone of New York fairly well.

As a matter of fact, the pinning roses on themselves every day. They feel they have done a good job. They even caused the arrest of a Chicago alderman who had some hard stuff in his suit case. The federal judge let him off with a $50 fine, but it was a great moral victory for the Haynes brigade just the same.

So "room visiting" still is a popular pastime and no one apparently is actually suffering from over-ardity.

These piping days of peace at the convention have brought forth the piping voices of the ladies. The various delegations are viewing with each other in putting forward the lady delegates to announce the votes on the various ballots being taken. Most of the women have been small voices which have difficulty in reaching the recording desk, but occasionally a trained speaker announces in tones that can be heard all over the hall. Such an effort always wins applause.

The Texas delegation is giving every member an opportunity to announce a vote—men and women alike. There are forty persons in the delegation, so they can run forty ballots before repeating.

During all of the first day's balloting, Senator Walsh, of Montana, the permanent chairman, received one vote. So whenever he had no votes he would insist upon calling this one vote "scattering." It reminded some of the Boston newspaper men of an ecclesiastical convention held in the Hub some time ago for the election of Episcopal bishop. In announcing the final result one reporter wrote that "the Rev. Mr. Scattering received three votes."

When Judson Harmon, the venerable Buckeye Democrat, arose to announce that Ohio cast her 45 votes solidly for James M. Cox, comparatively few persons in the vast assembly of disciples of Thomas Jefferson recognized him. Mr. Harmon was serving as attorney general in the cabinet of Grover Cleveland before many of the delegates attending the present convention were born. He is in his 72nd year, but still is one of the stalwart war horses of the Democracy.

When Senator Pat Harrison read the announcement to the convention that former Secretary Fall, the two Dohens and Harry F. Sinclair had been indicted at Washington in connection with the oil scandals, the band burst forth with "The Stars and Stripes Forever." One of the older delegates suggested that "Down Went McGinty to the Bottom of the Sea" would have been more appropriate. But these modern bands don't know many of the old ditties.

PLANES ARE ARMY'S "DEATH EYES"

By NEA Service
DAYTON, July 2.—The "death eyes" of the United States army are a new terror to potential enemies. Eyes that can see anything; eyes that record instantly and permanently their objects; eyes that bring death with their glance.

Secret researches by army engineers are making the eyes the 21st century's most efficient and one of the most effective pieces of war machinery.

These sections are perhaps the most mobile units in the army. Should a national emergency arise these 22 sections could be stripped for action and on the move within 12 hours.

And here is how the eyes can bring death and destruction as proved by recent tests.

A big gun was aimed at a concealed target six miles away. Army photographers in an airplane took pictures of the target as the shots hit. The films were dropped to the ground.

The air service below developed them and in three minutes the big gun commander saw pictures and corrected his range. The fourth shot demolished the target.

In another test a photographic section plane flew to a given altitude directly above the target. The plane was above the range of the possible enemy guns. Directly over the target it gave a signal. By triangulation the ground forces were able to compute the location exactly.

And now experiments are being made to devise a paper that will make pictures instantaneously.

From an airplane a picture will be taken the instant the first shot hits and a second later a photograph of the target dropped to the commander enabling him another second later, to send a true shot.

Each of the 22 sections consists of a commander, 21 men, two photographic airplanes and two trucks, carrying all equipment including a developing room.

HUSSEY WENT START
Frank Hussey, the New York school box member of the Olympic team, will not be a starter in the 100 meter preliminary at Paris July 6, according to James Robertson, team coach.

Military and Navy men and give education plus.

Dr. Frank Grant, team coach, said: "There should be military training for every boy in the United States."

General Pershing summed up the many advantages of these schools when he said:

"There is a phase of military training for young men to which attention is especially invited and that is the training of the individual himself. He learns self discipline, he gains self confidence and has an opportunity to develop qualities of leadership with an understanding of his responsibility. I would that every young man might have the advantage of this training. It is one of our nation's more recent. We feel that the best thing we ever did for our boys was to send them to the Danville Military Institute."

GREENSBORO July 1—Greensboro was rained out of fifth place in fourth place this afternoon. The following statement sounds rather funny but that was the case. While the locals were idle, Durham was trimming Winston a couple and putting Winston below the Patriots. The locals were scheduled to play the Patriots. Two games will be played tomorrow weather permitting.

DURHAM WINS TWO AND TIES HIGH POINT FOR THE LEADERSHIP OF LEAGUE

WINSTON-SALEM, July 1—Bour's Bulls, captured both ends of a double-header from The Tains here this afternoon, the first 5 to 3 and the nightcap affair by the close margin of 1 to 0 in a pitchers battle between Caviness and Thompson.

The games were played most of the time in a mist of rain. By the double victory The Bulls went into a tie with High Point, who was idle, for first place.

In the first contest the Bulls counted off two outs on Jones single. Three were added in the following chapter. H. Smith beat out an infield flap. Lennox singled. Sessions sacrificed. Masters doubled and Smith and Lennox scored. Mallonee went out but Bour singled scoring Masters. Brummitt singled but Jones ended the inning with a fly. Another tally in the third was made off Lennox's double and Sessions single. After that Werts kept his hits scattered and the visitors could do no further scoring.

The Twins registered twice in the first. Long got an infield hit. Smith sacrificed. Waldron singled and Long scored. Standeard hit to Lennox who threw to Brummitt to catch Waldron at second, but Brummitt dropped the ball and all were safe. Hamby doubled and Waldron scored. Rymer fanned and Inman popped out.

In the second game Caviness had his "smoke ball" working to perfection. Only one scratch hit Thompson hit, one a scratch hit Thompson also pitched brilliant ball allowing but four bingles. It was his fourth four-hit game he had lost.

The only run of the game came in the sixth. Sessions lined out to short. Caviness beat out a slow roller to short. Mallonee went out, second to first. Caviness going to second. Bour singled to center. Long was playing close and recovered the ball before Caviness reached third, but for unknown reasons held the ball and Caviness sped for home. Long decided to throw the ball when Caviness was a few yards from home. His leg was wild at that. A number of Danville players witnessed the games.

Senators Win Two; Yanks Blank Athletics; Giants Win

INDIANS PLUNGE FROM 7TH TO 4TH PLACE BY THEIR DOUBLE VICTORY

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, July 2.—Cleveland's mighty effort which plunged the American League into turmoil and sent Washington into the lead ahead of New York, Detroit and Boston has finally lifted the Indians from last place to the first division. Speakers thrice vaulted from seventh to fourth yesterday by winning two games from St. Louis by scores of 6 to 4 and 5 to 2 as Boston lost twice to the hustling Senators, 2 to 1 and 5 to 1, and Chicago was beaten by Detroit 13 to 3.

The new alignment gives Washington a 2-0 lead over New York, which shut out Philadelphia 7 to 0 behind Hoyt's pitching, aided by Ruth's twentieth homer which came with two men on. The Yankees are in a virtual tie for second with Detroit. The Indians rest three games behind the two. Chicago dropped to fifth, a half game behind the Indians. The Red Sox, recently leading the league, are in sixth place, only one point ahead of the Browns and seventh. Each is only seven contests behind first. The Athletics are 8 1-2 games away from seventh.

The Giants continued their merciless pummeling of Brooklyn with a 6 to 0 victory. Bently pitched the first shut out game in his career. Chicago retained its position five and one-half games behind the leaders by beating the Reds 4 to 3. Friberg accounted for three of the runs with a home run.

Rogers Hornsby made his ninth homer of the season and his second within two days in the Cardinals' 2 to 1 win over Pittsburgh. His batting supported Johnny Stuart, who allowed only four hits. The Phillies scored five runs in the first inning and defeated Boston 9 to 6.

Splendid pitching by Martina, who allowed six hits, and by O'Brien, touched for the Sox and permitted the Washington to maintain its flying pace. Piercy held the Senators to six and Quinn allowed only 8 but the league leaders in a spirited mood are not ready to rest.

Detroit turned the tables on the White Sox with a top heavy score. Cleveland bunched hits in both games to win from St. Louis.

THE NUT CRACKER

JOE WILLIAMS

STRAIGHT DOPE BENNY ON THE RADIO

The thing that makes the favorite son business, as practiced by politicians, all wrong, like red ants in the picnic pickles, is the horrible judgment displayed in selecting said favorite sons.

Who is the favorite son of Georgia? Ty Cobb, of course. And was Ty's name put in nomination at either of the word-testing tournaments? It was not.

What if Cobb knows nothing about the tariff, world peace, disarmament program or ship subsidy, can't he still make a bum out of any pitcher that grooves one with the bases loaded?

And who is the favorite son of Kansas? Don't ask such silly questions. Walter Johnson has done more to advertise Kansas than all the bag-punching statesmen at large.

And what does he get when the big-lunged gas pipes of the country assemble to pick the next golf champion of the White House lawn? The air.

They didn't even let him go in the bull pen to warm up when the tippy delegates began to knock McAdoo and Smith all over the lot.

Does Utah give Jack Dempsey a tumble? Does she storm up and down the aisles singing through her fingers two of the greatest hits the world has ever known? Not to mention one of the hardest chins!

She doesn't. Only one delegate even mentions him. That was when he stood in the middle of Madison Square Garden where the prizefighting is usually placed.

I ask you ladies, and the things the minister wished on you, is this justice? Is this what our darling forefathers came over in the Mayflower to gain this sour and staid end that we crushed German Kultur and kraut?

I propose that in the future when a politician nominates a favorite son, that he be forced to specify whose favorite son he is and why.

(Next week Straight Dope Benny will plunge into the liquor situation and would-be rescuers are asked to leave him alone.)

Vital Facts On Health and Life

The following contribution on conservation of human life, submitted by Dr. R. W. Garrett, health officer, morning and evening, is of interest to Danville citizens:

PUBLIC HEALTH IS NATIONAL WEALTH
(BY DR. LOUIS I. DUBLIN)
(Statistician, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.)

The movement to conserve human life is dictated even by the crudest economic motives. An increase in the average span of life adds to the potential wealth of the country. It is the national wealth. The public health work of the last fifty years, by cutting the death rate from such diseases as malaria, typhoid fever, smallpox, cholera, yellow fever, tuberculosis and also from accidents, is in large measure, responsible for the addition of over ten years to the average lifetime of man. In 1855, the expectation of life of a person in Massachusetts was about 40 years; according to the latest census figures, it is well over 50 years. It is estimated most conservatively, that we produce more than we consume each year to the small amount of $100 per capita. The addition of only one equivalent to the addition of more than ten billion dollars to the national wealth of our country.

This is not all. A man or woman is worth more to his or her country when well than when sick. Illness is an important source of inefficiency and non-production. We lose on the average about seven days each year from sickness, or, about 2 per cent. of our working time. In terms of money lost from wages, $700,000,000 annually. At present high wages, the total will reach one billion dollars especially if the cost of medical care, drugs, appliances, etc., is included. A very large part of all this money could be saved by applying more intensively the public health measures which we know do control disease.

The well-directed expenditure of money for the conservation of the public health will bring larger returns in dollars and cents than many another investment. The wisdom of which communities never question. If, for example, tuberculosis could be entirely eliminated as a cause of sickness and death, an average of two and one-half years could be added to the life of every man and woman in the United States. We have amply demonstrated our ability to suppress typhoid fever. Yet there are still over thirteen thousand deaths each year, most of which could readily be avoided and, further, we would, at the same time, stop the double mortality which occurs for three years among those who survive an attack of typhoid fever. Diseases such as measles, scarlet fever and diphtheria and the other infections of childhood leave defective ears, hearts and kidneys, which impair efficiency and shorten life. The money value of all these losses is staggering when we stop to realize that human life is our greatest economic asset.

Our program for the next ten years should be to add one year of life to the present average life span of every man and woman in the United States.

20-YEAR-OLD ARTIST
LONDON, July 2.—The exhibit that has stirred most attention at the Dorcen Leigh galleries recently was made up of the water color drawings of Mrs. Mary Busk, 70-year-old artist. Her drawings were of scenes in Sicily, the Alps and England. Mrs. Busk is a self-taught artist and has been painting since the age of 14.

Nobody knows the age of the world, but Bob Williams says it is old enough to know better.

Discuss Reports At Conference of Education Ass'n.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 2.—Discussion of committee reports occupied the second business session of the convention of the national education association here today.

Revision of the arithmetic curriculum was commended in a report presented by Guy M. Wilson of the Boston University School of Education. Social utility criteria should supplant the "old formal doctrine" supporting the teaching of useless processes the report declared enumerating many "processes" definitely to be discarded, which it is asserted might with profit be omitted from school courses. Classified among these were the derivation of the common divisor or least common multiple beyond the power of inspection, electric flow, complex and compound fractions and annual and compound interest.

A resolution favoring establishment of the eighteenth of May commemorative day, the opening of the first Hague conference, as an international "good will" day in all schools, was offered by Mrs. Fannie Fern, of Berlin, in submitting a report on cooperation with the American school citizenship league.

Further reports on educational nomenclature classification of educational material and problems of English teaching were presented by John W. Withers, dean of the school of education, New York University. Thomas H. Briggs, of the teachers' college, Columbia University and J. W. Searson, professor of English at the University of Nebraska.

Two U. S. Entrants Are Eliminated

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, July 2.—Both American entrants, Miss Adeline Gehrig and Mrs. C. H. Harper, of New York, were eliminated soon after the women's fencing competition at the Olympic games started today. Twenty-six years, representing ten nations, crossed blades. Mrs. Harper lost four matches and won two, defeating Miss Davis, of Great Britain, 5 to 2 and Miss Stockhuyzen of Holland, 5 to 2. Miss Gehrig lost all three of her matches.

Gene Sarazen Goes to Pieces

(By The Associated Press.)
LABOULE, France, July 2.—Gene Sarazen, American professional golf champion, who led the field at the end of the first day's play for the French open championship yesterday with a score of 144 went to pieces in the third round of the tournament this morning when he lost 18 for the round for a total of 232 putting himself hopelessly out of the running.

SAILORS MONDLED

LONDON, July 2.—American sailors have taken to monies and walking sticks like ducks to water. Men of the American Training Squadron bought up all the canes and monies and the English coast guard boats called for more. A case of 500 monies was rushed there from London to supply the demand.

LETTERS "R. I. C." IN RED APPEAR ON CHILD'S BODY

(By The Associated Press.)
GASTONIA, N. C., July 2.—People in the vicinity of the Winnet mill are excited over a strange natural phenomenon which has appeared on the person of Little Dorothy, 6-year-old daughter of R. S. Parrot, who lives on the York road just south of the Winnet cotton mill.

Three mysterious letters of a blood red color appeared Saturday on the body of the child and no reason can be given by the father or mother as to why the letters have appeared. The plainly visible letters "R. I. C." appear on the flesh and appear as though they were stamped by a rubber stamp, and they read from right to left instead of left to right as in ordinary reading matter.

Mrs. Parrot says that the child has always been a perfect picture of health and indeed the smiling, fair haired and rosy-cheeked girl looked as well as anyone.

A bright red spot appeared on the child's abdomen Saturday a week ago, but as it gave no pain, it was not noticed much by mother or child. However, last Saturday the letters appeared in the place where the brightest red had shown. Little Dorothy had been bathed and put to bed between white sheets but several hours later when she awoke, she showed mother the letters that had appeared.

All efforts to wash the letters off failed and the members of the family thought perhaps that it was a kind of nettle rash or summer heat that appeared in a rather peculiar form. Several physicians have examined the child and they say that they can describe no reasons for the letters. The parents state that she has not had access to any kind of paint, neither has she been around any lettered signs or the like that might have left their imprint on the skin.

The letters themselves are about an inch in height and perfectly formed on the upper edge, there is a kind of scalloped effect outlined in red against the skin. No one who has seen the child can give any plausible reason for the appearance of the letters and the subject remains mysterious for the hundreds that have seen them.

Grandstand Gaff

HOSE Pointers, who have been pointing to the top with such persistency, have at last been caught up with. The Bulls have romped around until they have horned right in to position occupied by the Pointers. That puts Danville really in second place, just four and a half games trailing. Double-headers at High Point and Greensboro this afternoon, though, may bring some new changes again.

The Virginians will have on their fighting clothes when they clash with the Pointers in the double bill this afternoon at High Point. After a day's rest most any of Murphy's pitchers, except Wilson who worked Monday, will be able to work today. With Shoaf, McWhirter and Maltland, all dependable hurlers to rely on with Westende in reserve, just watch the results.

Since Danville is making such a good showing no doubt a number of fans motored over to see the double program this afternoon. With another two weeks going like the past two, Danville will be running in her form of last year.

The game at High Point having been called off on account of wet grounds in plenty of time, most of the Danville team motored over to Winston-Salem yesterday and became fans. They witnessed the game between the Twins and Bulls and saw "Smoky" Joe Caviness, former Danvillian, let the Twins down with only two bingles, one a scratch hit.

That boy Thompson has certainly been playing in hard luck with Winston. His last four games has been four hit affairs but he has lost every one of them. Lack of hitting by his teammates seems to be the cause.

Disheartening for a hurler of Thompson's calibre.

Hopes of Washington fans are running high with the winning spirit of the Senators. "Buck" Harris, youngest major league manager, is no doubt proud of his team and is working hard to keep his club in the lead. The Senators are now three games on the top, with New York second, by virtue of their double victory yesterday.

Incidentally, should Washington keep up her good playing and should happen to win the R.A.G. hundreds of southern fans will witness some of the world series games there. It's a cinch that the South or certainly the South Atlantic States are pulling for Washington.

New Mail Service Between Danville and Yanceyville

N. L. Lindsey, of Yanceyville, N. C., has been awarded the contract to carry the mails between Yanceyville, and Danville. The contract became effective July 1st, and covers a four-year period, expiring June 30, 1928. Mr. Lindsey will receive the rate of 1.134 a year for his services. This route will serve to facilitate the mail service between the two cities to the extent that there will now be two mails each way, instead of one as heretofore. The mail will leave Danville at 8 a. m., and 5:15 p. m., and will arrive at 9 a. m., and 6:15 p. m., daily except Sunday. It will leave Yanceyville at 6:45 a. m., and 4 p. m., and will arrive at 7:45 a. m. and 5 p. m., daily except Sunday.

—Mrs. Frank Simpson will leave Friday for Bristol, Tenn., where she will spend several weeks as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Shankle.

The Sportsman

By WALTER CAMP

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
NEW YORK, July 2.—The sportsman certainly is adding time bigger and better when it comes to rowing.

Of the variety crews at Poughkeepsie, Washington, Syracuse, Cornwall and Pennsylvania—there were only three men out of thirty-two who were under six feet. Seven of them were over six feet three inches.

Washington had no man in her boat under six feet in height and there were two who measured six feet four, one who measured six feet three, Syracuse had two men over six feet three; Cornell had one who measured six feet four and Pennsylvania had two over six feet three.

Age took its toll, both on links and courts in England last week Norman Brooks, after defeating Francis Hunter in a glorious revival of his old skill, went down before E. Washer simply because he had nothing left to give in the way of physical strength. J. H. Taylor, after a marvelous round of 70 at Hoylake, fell by the wayside in the exacting, long grind. But both gave wonderful exhibitions of skill and delighted the galleries with flashes of their old time greatness.

There are two improbable contests which the world would like to see. One is a race between Rusty Calow's Washington crew and Ed Elder's Yale eight. The other is a match between Miss Joyce Wethered, British woman golf champion, and Miss Glenna Collett.

U. S. Rifle Team Finishes Fourth

(By The Associated Press.)
VERSAILES, France, July 2.—The U. S. rifle team, which finished a close fourth this morning in the team shooting running deer target competition. Eight nations were entered but France abandoned the competition soon after it began. The scores:

Sweden, 3 men, 114; Finland, 3 men, 102; Norway, 2 men, 19; U. S., 2 men, 78; England, 2 men, 72; Hungary, 2 men, 51; Czechoslovakia, 1 man, 31. For the United States, Major J. K. Boies, U. S. Field Artillery, scored 41 and Sergeant Raymond Coulter, U. S. Marine Corps, scored 37.

SUZANNE LENGLEN QUILTS BECAUSE OF ILLNESS AND RICHARDS MEETS DEFEAT

(By The Associated Press.)
WIMBLEDON, July 2.—The Wimbledon lawn tennis championships today entered the closing stages after a day of sensations, including the withdrawal of Suzanne Lenglen, five times woman champion of the world, because of illness, and the defeat of Vincent Richards, brilliant young American internationalist by Jean Borotra, of France.

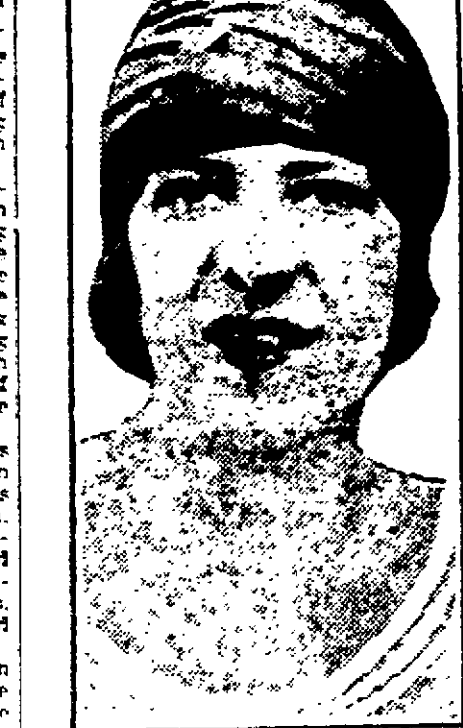

Miss Lenglen's withdrawal, announced by the captain of the French team, is the uppermost topic among the great crowd of tennis fans here for the tournament. Playing at the top of her game, she advanced to the round before the semi-final, brushing aside all opponents without dropping a single game until her last match, that with Miss Elizabeth Ryan, of California, in which she suffered the loss of one set.

According to one source she was suffering when she played Miss Ryan and the terrific pace to which she was forced at that time in order to win, accentuated her illness. She complained of pain after the match and had such a high temperature yesterday that she consulted her doctors, with the result that she was ordered to cease playing.

Her withdrawal caused a sensation and is regarded as improving the chances of Miss Helen Wills, the American champion, who may, if she defeats Mrs. Phyllis Satterthwaite today, will find facing her in the final round, Miss Kathleen McKane, the British star, instead of the formidable Lenglen. Borotra's defeat of Richards was totally unexpected, as the latter had displayed sufficient strength to warrant the assumption that he would at least advance to the final round and probably carry off the honors of the tournament.

The story of the match, in short, was that Richards was off his game, while Borotra was very much "on."

ILL, WITHDRAWS

SUZANNE LENGLEN

In fact the Frenchman displayed a brand of tennis which he had never before unloosed at Wimbledon. He played at his own specialty, volleying. The score of the match was 6-4, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2.

The brilliant weather of the last few days which has so greatly favored the championship play has also been a cold rain and it seemed rather doubtful early today whether the Wills-Satterthwaite match and other events would be run off.

IRON RESOURCES OF WORLD MENACED BY CORROSION

CHICAGO, July 1.—Battling rust and corrosion costs approximately two and a half billion dollars a year according to W. J. Overbeck, superintendent of the DuPont Company of Chicago.

"This sum spent annually to counteract the ravages of corrosion and rust will give a fair idea of the total bill the world is paying for the slow decay of metals used in industrial work, which are not protected against them," he declared. "It is a vital matter because the yearly waste is making the iron ore resources of the world exhaustible within a measurable distance of time."

GOVT OFFERS SERVICES TO STORM STRICKEN AREA

WASHINGTON, July 1.—In a telegram of sympathy sent today to Governor Donahy of Ohio, President Coolidge offered the services of the federal government in relieving the distress brought by the storm of last Saturday.

"I am sure," Mr. Coolidge said, "that I speak for the whole country when I express to you the deep sympathy which I feel in the terrible disaster which has come to your state. Please advise me if the federal government can be of any assistance in relieving distress."

DR. J. D. BUTLER, Optometrist

After practicing in all the larger cities of the State, Dr. J. D. Butler has selected Danville for his permanent home. It is the life work of this man to correct impaired vision and its train of evils. He has fitted up the most delicate nature of his work handsome offices in the Southern Amusement Bldg., 551 Main St., and he wants it distinctly understood that his prices are within reach of all. No one is too poor to receive his best, most conscientious attention and none so wealthy that better, more expert service could be had. At present he makes no charge for consultation, and if he cannot benefit you he will frankly tell you so.

If your eyes tire or if you cannot continue for any length of time to regard small objects, as in reading; if you involuntarily frown or partly close the eyes when looking at an object; or if things "swim" or become dim after being looked at for some time; if the eyes ache, smart, or water; or if the eyelids get red often; if you have pains in the eyeball, orbita, temples or forehead; or if you have any nervous derangements that you cannot otherwise account for, call immediately.

ROCKWELL CERTAIN OF M'ADOO VICTORY

NEW YORK, July 1.—After the final ballot tonight, David Ladd Rockwell, campaign manager for William G. McAdoo, made this statement: "McAdoo will be nominated, if not tomorrow, Wednesday. We will have a majority of one of the early ballots tomorrow and the minority will realize it can't block McAdoo's nomination. We are thoroughly satisfied over today's showing as it proves the strength of the McAdoo forces and indicates their staying powers."

Asked if it was likely that an effort would be made to abrogate the two-thirds rule if McAdoo obtains a majority but is unable to gain the necessary 737 votes, Rockwell said he did not care to speculate upon such a contingency. He was of the opinion that if the McAdoo votes go above the majority and do not recede, delegates, in time, will be willing to climb on the band wagon and give McAdoo a two-thirds majority.

Rockwell asserted it was apparent that the real battle was between McAdoo and Governor Smith, with both sides digging in for a fight to the finish. Both he declared, were jockeying for advantage and neither showed its full strength. "It looks like trench warfare," said Rockwell, insisting that McAdoo forces would be able to hold their lines in the face of a many-sided attack.

FOUNDING ALASKAN TOWN DUE TO TAKING WRONG ROUTE

SEATTLE, July 1.—The founding of Fairbanks, Alaska, in 1902, was due to a mistake in taking a water route by Captain John Barnette, according to relatives here.

Captain Barnette sailed up the Yukon river to investigate the Tanana river. He was misled by some of the inaccurate maps of the period, he mistook the Chena Slough for the Tanana river and sailed to the present site of Fairbanks before discovering his error. He was forced to discharge the greater part of his cargo of trade goods to lighten the boat in maneuvering it back to the main stream. When he discovered the possibilities of the place, he built a log store.

WILL PRESENT LAFOLLETTE WITH PETITION TO RUN

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 1.—Tentative agreement has been reached by persons who have been urging Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, to run for president, to present to him, probably this week, a petition which they assert carries hundreds of thousands of signatures.

A "LaFollette for President" committee, located in Chicago, has charge of the petition and W. F. Raleigh probably will make the presentation in Washington.

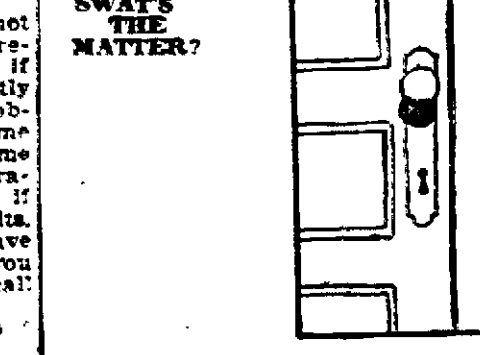

Senator LaFollette is expected to make a statement to the committee defining his position. The committee will have some association with the Cleveland convention which meets on July 4th, and which is expected to nominate the Wisconsin senator.

SWATS THE MATTER?

EMPLOYING OF YOUNG BARMEN BANNED BY PROPOSED IRISH BILL

DUBLIN, July 1.—The text of the Free State Government's legislation for reform of the drink traffic, recently issued, is less drastic than was expected. A uniform hour of opening and closing for the sale of drink all over the Free State is adopted. Thirteen hours opening daily, from 9 A. M. till 10 P. M. are provided, with half an hour earlier closing on Saturdays. This is opposed by the licensed trade on the ground that 9 o'clock is too late to open, and that farmers and laborers, who make markets are often in the early hours of the morning, require refreshments.

The main provision is that which abolishes mixed trading, and requires that a drink shop shall sell nothing but drink, unless food is consumed with the drink. The provision is that food may be sold. But food may not be sold across the counter as at present. The great proportion of country shops which sell drink, and there are 15,000 altogether in the Free State, are general stores and sell everything. It is feared they will be closed, and the necessary structural alterations would cost over $20,000,000.

The bill especially aims at the traffic in poteen. Until now offenders escaped with fines, and as the trade is highly profitable, even those who do not intend to use it for other purposes, through the police.

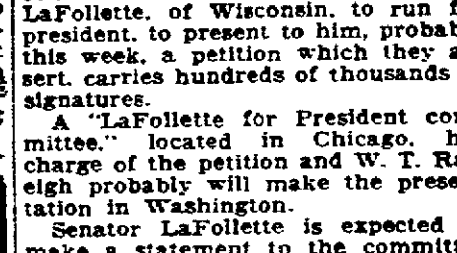

In future the time-honored practice of chalking up the drink score will disappear for purchases of liquor must be cash transactions. Nobody under 18 can be served with drink at all, and there must be no young barmen.

FRED REACHES ITALY DAY AFTER YOU

The wireless dispatch given above not only carried its visible message; but it also told the exact day on which Fred was to arrive. Can you discover the hidden message?

Yesterday's answer:

To form the flag of Guatemala, cut the blue field in half (vertically). Turn over the section removed from the right, which brings the white stripe into the middle, and join it to the blue portion which is attached to the staff. Thus the correct flag, with three vertical stripes—blue, white, and blue—is formed.

Other methods are possible, but they require more cuts, or necessitate the removal of the flag from the staff.

STOWAWAY CRABS FROM CHINA MULTIPLY IN GERMAN WATERS

HAMBURG, Germany, July 1.—Riding as stowaways all the way from China to Germany, a brood of crabs known to the scientist as "eriocheir," has settled down in the Elbe River and is enriching this stream by a hitherto unknown species of fauna. The crabs fastened themselves to the bottom of ships plying between Hamburg and China, in the opinion of German zoologists, and are here beginning to multiply. Fifteen specimens thus far have been discovered. The crab in question is characterized by long hair on the shears. A group of fishermen caught several of these queer-looking animals in their nets and took them to the State Zoological institute, where they were identified as a type found only in Chinese waters.

German scientists are delighted over the find and hope that "eriocheir" will in due time become a name familiar to every German school boy.

NEW YORK COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, July 2.—The cotton market showed a generally steady tone in today's early trading on further covering by July shorts and moderate demands for new crop portions which was encouraged by reports of further rains in the eastern belt. July sold up to 30 cents or 10 points net higher and new crop positions sold about 10 to 15 points higher, October advancing to 25.32. Brokers with continental connections were among the buyers of new crop positions.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, July 2.—Strength and activity of the oil shares featured the irregularly higher opening of today's stock market. General Electric and U. S. Cast Iron Pipe each moved up a point. A good demand was noted for the low priced rails, a number of which improved fractionally. Prices bounded upward soon after the opening with a large volume of buying orders distributed throughout the list. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

MORNING STOCK LETTER

Thomson & McKinnon
NEW YORK, July 2.—The follies at Madison Square Garden will give another performance this morning. From appearances it might have a record run. Frozen votes, like frozen credits, will be followed by liquidation. I don't know anything about politics but if it is called upon to appraise the conventional value I would say that it is the best short sale of the year.

Foreign affairs in Mexico have taken on a cloudy appearance again. There has been a very large amount of short covering for several days and that means a weak technical position and we have a holiday ahead of us. I wouldn't be surprised at a reaction; we may see it today or at any moment thereafter.

MORNING COTTON LETTER

Thomson & McKinnon
NEW YORK, July 2.—Cables about as noted. Eastern belt had more unfavorable rains yesterday and there was rain in southwest Texas. Fair weather is promised for entire belt tomorrow. The average of 17 private condition reports is 54.4. The market last month came two points lower than the private average. Should it come more bullish today than expected, it is doubtful if any great advance can be sustained as the buying work in the market has been materially reduced because of uncertainty regarding July. Should anything happen that contract and its premium crumble, the other months would follow.

KING BORIS SELLS FARM TO PLEASE VILLAGERS
BLODIN, Bulgaria, July 1.—A quarrel between the royal house of Bulgaria and the villagers of Metich near this city has been settled after a quarter of a century, and King Boris has been bombarded with telegrams from the villagers thanking him for his generosity in settling the dispute.

RUINED

No more uncertain business than catering to women's fashions. The bobbed hair craze has almost ruined the hairnet industry in which sales used to amount to 20 millions dollars a year.

American women are spending several hundred millions a year for bobs and permanent waves, according to trade estimates. To have bobbed hair and renewal of "permanent" waves costs a woman an average of $100 a year. A lot to pay for a hairnet.

WEATHERVANE

Soft coal mines have been turning out an average of only 7 million tons a week. Normal output is 10 millions.

This indicates that general business is only seven-tenths normal. Some economists believe soft coal production is the most accurate barometer of industrial conditions. Others are pig iron output, railroad freight traffic and commercial fires. Watch these four and know which way the wind is blowing.

OUT

Grimm's giant, who squeezed a stone until water ran out, had nothing on the Japs. They expect to solve their problem of oil supply by extracting petroleum from shale in Manchuria.

Shale oil already is a big industry in Scotland. It will be, later, in America when underground pools of oil are exhausted. Oil-bearing shale exists in fabulous quantities in many of our western states. In a pinch we could go back to taking oil from coal as they used to—that's how it got the name "coal oil." Alcohol also awaits. There is no such thing as exhaustion of natural resources.

ANOTHER HIGH SCHOOL BATTLES DISCOVERED

PORTLAND, Me., July 1.—Portland, Me. has its own Young Sirthling in Jimmy "Kid" Rice, featherweight champion of Maine, a student at Portland High and, in addition, sole support of his family.

Rice has a mother, two sisters and a crippled father, and through his boxing ability recently bought a two-family house in this city.

In addition to this Rice keeps up his studies at Portland High and expects to graduate from high school next year, following which he plans to enter college.

Rice is now under the management of Frankie DeRice, local boxing promoter, who started the fight with him in Maine on his upward career. DeRice noted Jimmy's possibilities and took him under his wing. Recently Rice went to New York for a month's training and made a great bit in Stillman's gym by knocking out Kid Williams, former bantam champion, in a practice session.

Rice is the only real high school boxer in the country today, for Striding of Georgia has left school. Rice attends school regularly. He is only 16 years of age and his boxing act is his ability to hit hard with either hand.

High seas bookshops are becoming increasingly popular on trans-oceanic lines.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, July 2.—The cotton market opened slightly irregular, July showing a gain of 9 points over the previous close but October was four points down and eased off 3 points additional right after the call. As Liverpool was better than domestic prices promptly rallied, July trading up to 28.04 and October to 24.50 or 13 and 8 points respectively net higher. Rains were reported in the early section of southwest Texas where not wanted and also in the eastern belt. There was evidence of some further short covering in advance of the government report due at 11:30 a. m. central time.

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that "impure" skin which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red-blood-cells, and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes rosy-lit and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S.S.S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The largest size is more economical.
